Lehman Beats Dulles In N. Y. Senate Race

Victory For Truman's 'Fair Deal'

BULLETIN
New York, Nov. 8—(AP)—Sen. John Foster Dulles conceded the election of Herbert H. Lehman to the Senate at 9:44 P.M. (CST) tonight.

New York, Nov. 8—(AP)—A tide of Democratic votes swept Herbert H. Lehman into the U. S. Senate and retained the party's control of the nation's largest state tonight.

Lehman, four times governor of New York and a strong supporter of President Truman's fair deal, had a margin of 201,000 votes over Republican Sen. John Foster Dulles with more than one third of the election districts reporting.

At 9:40 p.m. Democratic State Chairman Paul E. Fitzpatrick claimed victory for Lehman.

O'Dwyer Ahead
Democratic Mayor William O'Dwyer, running for a second term in a hot fight, held a commanding lead over two opponents.

The New York Times and New York Herald Tribune, both of which supported Dulles and Newbold Morris, O'Dwyer's republican-liberal-fusion opponent, said Lehman and O'Dwyer had been elected.

The Lehman-Dulles fight attracted wide national interest as the first major test of the "fair deal" since the 1948 presidential election.

In the Senate race, returns from 4,215 of the state's 9,565 election districts gave: Lehman 1,205,750, Dulles 1,004,497.

This included 2,165 districts from the upstate G.O.P. area and 2,050 from Democratic New York City.

Lehman was running much better both upstate and in the metropolis than he did three years ago. That year, he was beaten for the Senate by republican Irving M. Ives, the only election the 71-year-old former governor ever lost.

In the New York City mayor election, with 1,525 of 3,889 election districts reporting, O'Dwyer had 490,342 votes, Morris 335,247 and Rep. Vito Marcantonio, the American Labor party nominee, 125,888.

The Democrats also were ahead in the only state-wide contest besides the U. S. Senate battle, a race of the circuit court of appeals.

The Democrats were doing much better upstate than in most years.

Lehman was capturing about 40 per cent of the vote compared with 34 per cent which he got in 1946.

FE, IHC Officials Resume Bargaining Talks Tuesday

Chicago, Nov. 8—(AP)—Farm equipment union and International Harvester company officials resumed wage and pension-insurance bargaining talks today.

A company spokesman said the meeting was brief, made no material progress toward settlement, and was recessed until Friday.

Gerald Fields, union leader, said Harvester "has assured the union it will continue to live up to its collective bargaining contracts with us."

The union, recently expelled from the CIO, claims 40,000 members among Harvester employees in 11 company plants in Illinois, Kentucky, Indiana and New York. The rival CIO United Auto Workers represents nine locals in seven Harvester plants. The UAW will begin pension-insurance talks with the company Thursday.

Ask Wider Choice Of Candidates For State Legislature

Decatur, Ill., Nov. 8—(AP)—The Illinois league of women voters is seeking to persuade the two political parties to give voters a wider choice of candidates for state legislature.

Mrs. John Donovan, secretary of the Macon county league, said leagues throughout the state will present their requests to leaders of the Democratic and Republican parties, and to senatorial committees of the parties in the various districts.

In November, 1948, 78 of the 153 state representatives were elected without opposition.

Big 3 May Let Reich Set Up Consulates

Paris, Nov. 8—(AP)—The U. S., Britain and France may permit the West German republic to establish consular offices and commercial missions abroad, it was reliably reported today.

This report, on the eve of tomorrow's Big Three foreign ministers' conference, was accompanied by a prediction from sources close to the ministers that they would give up attempts to make West Germany pay part of the staggering cost of World War II through surrender of her key industries.

As part of the price of ending dismantling of factories, the Bonn government was said to be willing to promise it would gear its industries to allied wishes. This proposal was reported already in the hands of the three high commissioners for western Germany.

Informants who revealed the plan to give the republic consular representation stressed that these offices would not have diplomatic status. Foreign policy would continue to be directed by the occupation powers.

The whole German problem will be thrashed out at tomorrow's meeting of the Big Three foreign ministers.

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson arrived in Paris from Washington today and was immediately closeted with his German and European experts.

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin similarly conferred with foreign office technicians while France's Robert Schuman wound up the flurry of preparations by going before the French parliament's foreign affairs committee for a full dress review of French policy towards Germany.

Pro-U.S. Candidate Leads In Islands

Violence Marks Election In Philippines
Manila, Nov. 9—(AP)—President Elpidio Quirino, friend of the United States, today swept into a 35,000-vote lead and his backers claimed victory in yesterday's presidential election.

Jose P. Laurel, critic of U.S. policy in the Philippines, refused to concede defeat. Laurel had held a 10,000-vote margin as a result of returns from Manila, where he had a good lead.

Bloodshed, Violence
The balloting was marked by bloodshed and wholesale charges of election irregularities.

Latest unofficial figures gave Quirino, Liberal party candidate, 126,802, Laurel 91,168 and Jose Avelino, political foe of Quirino, 33,559.

House speaker Eugenio Perez, Liberal party campaign manager, said on the basis of the trend so far Quirino would be re-elected.

At least 24 persons were killed and 17 wounded throughout the Philippines in yesterday's election. In addition, Laurel's Nacionalista party headquarters accused civilian guards of shooting 78 Nacionalista Moros to death in Lanao province, on the southern island of Mindanao. The southern island of Mindanao. The government reported only one Moro killed in Lanao.

Laurel Tops In Manila
Laurel, puppet president under the Japanese, had a lead of nearly two to one in Manila. Quirino had about the same edge in the provinces. Quirino supporters said the tide would turn when the big vote comes in from the central Philippines, where Quirino is strong.

Along with the violence, there was a flood of complaints of irregularities reaching the national commission on elections.

Minority leaders in six towns south of Manila charged voters there had been terrorized by Quirino forces. A predict north of Manila reported acid had been poured into boxes there, spoiling all ballots.

Avelino supporters accused Quirino's forces of "mass arrests and kidnappings of our inspectors" at Ormoc, on Leyte in the central Philippines. They said their inspectors were driven into the hills.

Ironically, the most peaceful area was central Luzon. There, where the Communist-led Hukbalahap guerrillas are in revolt against the government, the voting was calm. Constabulary troops stood guard.

Milk Producers Examine US Farm Support Program

New York, Nov. 8—(AP)—Federal government farm price support programs came under critical scrutiny today at the annual convention of the National Cooperative Milk Producers Federation.

Secretary of Agriculture Brannan made a new plea for support of his plan to pay farmers a federal subsidy when the free prices of milk and dairy products fall below a level that would give producers what would be regarded as a fair return on their work.

Farm programs being used now, he said, can't reach the goal of giving a high return to the dairy industry and result in a large supply of milk at low prices to the consumer.

Charles W. Holman of Washington, secretary of the federation, said: "The agricultural act of 1949 is facing the double threat of political sabotage and the apparent inability of the administration to dispose effectively of some of the government-held surplus products."

East St. Louis, Ill., Nov. 8—(AP)—The East St. Louis post office and the collector of internal revenue are the latest victims of counterfeit bill passing, it was announced today.

Several false $10 bills were received by the post office and the collector's office took on one.

Jackson N. Krill, head of the Secret Service here, said about $1,000 in bogus bills were encountered in the past four weeks.

Paris, Ill., Nov. 8—(AP)—Charles A. Weems, 53, fatally shot himself last night while on duty as a bartender at a tavern in nearby Brocton, Edgar county. He died today at a Paris hospital.

A coroner's jury said he committed suicide. Witness testified that Weems had been despondent since a divorce. They said he had six children, that he formerly lived at Stapleton, Neb., and later served for 20 years as a policeman at Dearborn, Mich.

Murphysboro, Ill., Nov. 8—(AP)—The Jackson county circuit clerk, Fred H. Fraser, was re-indicted yesterday on charges of embezzling $8,967 in office funds.

Fraser will issue a summons for himself to appear for arraignment to conform with legal procedure. The hearing was scheduled for tomorrow before Circuit Judge Harold Zimmerman. Fraser remained free under $10,000 bond.

Decatur, Ill., Nov. 8—(AP)—A. E. Staley Manufacturing company, corn and soybeans processor, today declared an extra dividend of 40 cents a share of common stock in addition to the regular quarterly disbursement of 40 cents a share. Both are payable Dec. 5 to shareholders of record Nov. 23. Total dividend payments for the year will be $2 a share, the same amount as last year.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 8—(AP)—The Perry county transit company reported today it lost approximately $9,150 since it began business in DuQuoin in 1947.

The bus line is asking the Illinois Commerce commission for authority to discontinue the service. The application is not contested.

Monmouth, Ill., Nov. 8—(AP)—Mary Garden blames decline of the opera on "movies, radio and television."

The Scottish born opera star, who retired 18 years ago, talked opera for more than an hour to 900 Monmouth college students and citizens last night. She received a degree of doctor of music from the college today.

Says Pilot Of EA Plane Complained About B-25 Bomber
Washington, Nov. 8—(AP)—The pilot of a Miami-bound Eastern Airlines passenger plane radioed the control tower at the National Air port today that an Air Force B-25 bomber "almost ran into me" while flying at an altitude of 3,500 feet.

The Civil Aeronautics administration said the EAL pilot, Capt. J. R. Richardson, reported that the Air Force plane "had his (landing) gear down" and added:

"I didn't see him until he was almost on top of me."

The Air Force disclaimed any knowledge of a narrowly avoided collision, but as a result of the incident an instrument flying by military planes in the Washington area was cancelled.

The reported near accident occurred in the same general area south of Washington where another Eastern Airlines plane was hit from above by a Bolivian-piloted P-38 fighter plane last Tuesday. Both planes plummeted to earth with a toll of 55 dead. It was the worst airlines disaster in history.

Blast Kills One And Injures Five
Milwaukee, Nov. 8—(AP)—An explosion which blew out one wall of an auto accessory plant today killed one woman employee and injured five others.

The dead woman was identified as Dorothy Gruber, 22. She was burned badly.

Mrs. Cora Schultz, 56, and William Riefel, 54, were in critical condition at County Emergency hospital. Both suffered severe burns.

The cause of the explosion was not determined.

Some 80 persons were working in the plant, the J. W. Speaker Corp.

Mediators Turn To Coal As Steel Strike Nearly Ended

Election Bulletins

New York, Nov. 8—(AP)—William O'Dwyer, the Irish-born cop who rose to be mayor of the nation's largest city, swept to easy reelection on the democratic ticket tonight.

The 59-year-old O'Dwyer, a World War II general, trounced Newbold Morris, republican-liberal-fusion, and communist-backed Rep. Vito Marcantonio after one of the roughest New York City campaigns in years.

Boston, Nov. 8—(AP)—Mayor James Michael Curley—last of the old time political bosses still in power—was thrown out of office tonight.

With only a handful of precincts missing, City Clerk John B. Hynes led the 74-year-old Curley by almost 13,000 votes.

Philadelphia, Nov. 8—(AP)—Democratic candidates tonight wrested four city offices from republican control. GOP Chas. W. William Meade conceded election of the democratic slate headed by Richardson Dilworth for treasurer.

The GOP leader's announcement came long before complete returns had been tabulated.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 8—(AP)—The constitutional amendments which put repeal of the poll tax in a single package with other changes in the Virginia voting laws went down to a landslide defeat in Virginia's general election today.

Democrat John S. Battle did the expected and won handily over republican and social-democrat candidates for Governor. But the voting reforms which Battle, Senator Harry F. Byrd, Governor William M. Tucker and other leaders in the dominant party faction recommended, were snuffed out.

Newark, N. J., Nov. 8—(AP)—Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll held a firm grip on the lead tonight in his bid for a second term as New Jersey's chief executive.

Driscoll, a republican who has been boomed as a possible 1952 presidential candidate, stepped out in front of his democratic opponent, Elmer H. Wene, as first returns came in.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 8—(AP)—The republican organization tonight conceded the reelection of democratic Mayor Charles Farnsley over his republican opponent, Sheriff Rees Dickson.

Edward C. Black, third congressional district republican congressman and party spokesman, also conceded the election of democratic B. L. Shamburger, candidate for Jefferson county judge, over republican Miles Thacker.

Chicagoans Get Confused Over 'Election Day'

Chicago, Nov. 8—(AP)—Some of Chicago's tavernkeepers seem to think they have to close up when it's election day anywhere.

There was no election in Chicago today, you understand—but there were elections elsewhere, notably in New York and Boston. Some Chicago citizens didn't feel the eastern balloting should inconvenience them in the matter of liquid refreshment.

John Rusch, board of elections clerk, said "umpteens" persons called his office today to find out why they couldn't buy a drink.

He said some tavernkeepers apparently closed up in the mistaken belief that was the law.

But tavernkeepers and their patrons weren't the only ones confused. Clerks of the superior, circuit and county courts discovered they had bypassed Nov. 8 on their dockets because their calendars showed the day in red with the words "Election Day" printed below.

Appellate Court Reverses Fenwick Fraud Conviction

Chicago, Nov. 8—(AP)—The Federal Court of Appeals today reversed the income tax evasion conviction of Hellen J. Fenwick, Evansville, Ind., druggist and juke box owner.

He was convicted by a federal jury of evading $9,145 in income taxes for 1943 and 1944.

The Appeals Court opinion by Justice J. Earl Major said the trial record lacked any direct evidence that Fenwick had any taxable income which he did not report.

It said the government, at Fenwick's original trial in Indianapolis, evaluated his income by the "net worth method" and that it based its case on an "assumption of Fenwick's net worth."

The opinion concluded that the prosecution "failed to prove its case," and that it showed no discrepancy in Fenwick's stated income and no undisclosed source of income.

Crommelin Gets Off With Tongue-Lashing

Washington, Nov. 8—(AP)—Navy Capt. John G. Crommelin got off with a severe reprimand instead of a court martial today for his action in blowing the lid off the bitter row over national defense policies.

1. Insubordination.
2. Violation of naval secrecy regulations.
3. "Deliberate" circumvention of an order expressly forbidding Crommelin to take part in the interservice controversy.

In a letter entitled "subject: reprimand," Sherman told Crommelin he had "deliberately ignored" his responsibilities to his naval superiors, and declared:

"You brought into question your fitness to exercise command or to occupy a position of trust and confidence under those superiors or elsewhere within the naval service."

Then, after the cold phrase "you are hereby reprimanded," Sherman notified Crommelin that his suspension was lifted and that he was restored to duty.

Sherman's office said Crommelin will be assigned as aviation officer on the staff of Vice Admiral George D. Murray, commander of the western sea frontier, with headquarters in San Francisco.

An aviation hero of World War II and former skipper of the Aircraft Carrier Saipan, Crommelin was suspended and placed under house arrest on Oct. 6. The action followed his disclosure that three days earlier he had slipped to newsmen a series of confidential naval documents criticizing the unified defense setup.

Crommelin himself had frankly said he expected to be court-martialed for "what may have been a technical violation" of regulations, but he said "it had to be done in the interests of national security."

Today, after receiving Sherman's reprimand, the navy's stormy petrel told newsmen he has no intention of resigning. He had previously said wryly that he believed his naval career was "finished."

Imprisoned 3 Weeks On Charge Of Spying

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Nov. 8—(AP)—Samuel Meryn of the U.S. embassy, imprisoned nearly three weeks on charges of heading a spy ring, was released by the government today. He left Czechoslovakia at once.

The release of Meryn, 39-year-old Czech-born, followed a straight-talking speech by the new U.S. ambassador, Ellis O. Briggs, to Communist President Klement Gottwald.

The development apparently meant no let-up in Communist efforts to crack down on alleged spy networks, however.

32 More Arrested
The government announced tonight the arrest of 32 more Czechoslovaks, including two former members of parliament, who were alleged to have been in league with a western imperialist power in Germany. Presumably this meant the United States.

A third member of parliament, alleged head of the ring, was declared still at liberty in western Germany. He was identified as Dr. Michal Zibin.

The two former deputies arrested were Karel Foltis and Jim Bendik. All three deputies are former members of the now-outlawed Slovak Democratic party. The announcement accused them of bribing Czech refugees in German camps with American cigarettes to spy.

Given 3 Days To Leave
A government broadcast said Meryn had been released in response to his request for a "pardon." He added he had been given three days to get out of the country. But the U.S. embassy said he left immediately with his wife, an Austrian citizen.

Meryn, a clerk in the military attaché's office, was arrested Oct. 21. On the same day Isaac Patch, attaché in the embassy's political section, was ordered to leave the country in 24 hours on charges he had been operating an underground railway for fugitives from the Czechoslovak regime. Four days later the government John G. Heyn, Patch's assistant, deported on grounds that he was trying to ferret out secret industrial information. But he had already gone.

Subsequently, the government ousted two French diplomats and arrested a third on charges they were trying to get information about Czechoslovakia's uranium mining operations and had slipped samples of the ore out of the country. Premier Antonin Zapotocky admitted for the first time yesterday that Czechoslovakia is mining this ore with Russian aid for Russian atomic production.

Elected Chairman Of Peace Group

Evansville, Ill., Nov. 8—(AP)—Dr. Ralph Sockman, pastor of Christ church, New York, was elected today as chairman of the Commission on world peace of the Methodist church.

He succeeds the late Rev. Dr. Ernest Fremont Tittle of Evansville. The commission opened a two day meeting today. The 25 year old group is a political action arm of the Methodist church. It is composed of 35 persons, including six bishops and other prominent Methodists.

Three Major Steel Co. Give In

Washington, Nov. 8—(AP) Convinced that the steel strike was nearly over, government mediators turned to the soft coal deadlock today, calling John L. Lewis and operators to a meeting here Thursday.

The fact that three major steel companies have now reached agreements with Philip Murray's CIO steel workers was regarded by government officials as a sign of a quick end to the 39-day-old steel walkout.

The coal strike, which has now lasted 51 days, was not so easily written off. But conciliation director Cyrus S. Ching tackled the problem. In a telegram to the contending parties he noted that collective bargaining "has failed to result in an agreement." and asked spokesmen for each side to a mediation meeting.

When Ching issued his invitation to the conference, Lewis was in Chicago where he had called a meeting on his 206-man UMW policy committee for this afternoon, only to postpone it until tomorrow.

Lewis said he would have no comment on Ching's invitation until he actually received it.

Federal officials freely expressed the opinion that as a result of the steel settlements, it was now only a question of time before the other steel producers, employing the remainder of the 513,000 strikers, would be back in operation.

Repulse And J. & L. End Walkout
Republican Steel and Jones and Laughlin Steel companies announced settlements within a few hours of each other today. The Bethlehem company signed up in Cleveland on October 31.

On top of those fast moving developments, U. S. Steel corporation—biggest of them all—was reported to be getting ready an offer on pensions and insurance for Murray late this week or early next week.

Federal officials said the steel settlements point up the desirability of an old-age security system that would take care of aging workers uniformly.

The company-by-company negotiations which have taken place in this year's labor-management relations will produce a hodge-podge of pension and insurance plans, federal experts say.

In order to benefit from these separate company plans, it now will be necessary for hundreds of thousands of workers to remain frozen in their jobs, or at least to refrain from hopping from one plant to another.

Health Service Approves Grants To Help Students

Washington, Nov. 8—(AP)—The public health service approved 38 awards of $699,685 today to continue and extend education of medical and dental students concerning cancer.

The agency announced also that a test survey of the knowledge of 8,994 students in 32 medical schools regarding cancer has shown a wide disparity.

"The average score of seniors in one school was 50 per cent greater than that of seniors in another school," it said.

Among the 38 grants announced today, 36 were renewal; to schools previously participating and two were new grants—$25,000 to the Northwestern University medical school, Chicago, and $4,720 to the University of Alabama school of dentistry, Birmingham.

Medical schools receiving grants of $25,000 each to continue training programs already under way include:

University of Illinois and University of Wisconsin.

Canoga Park, Calif., Nov. 8—(AP)—A thief, Mrs. Irene A. Reid reported to police, took her $400 wedding ring. Officers asked where she was at the time.

"I was in court getting a divorce," she answered.

NEED OF STABLE PARTY GROUPINGS

France, which went without a government from Oct. 6 to 27, finally has a new premier and cabinet. Georges Bidault, a Popular Republican and a former foreign minister, succeeded where two other leaders failed.

Americans can be excused for being a bit baffled by the spectacle of an important European nation going three weeks without a government in this critical age. It is apparent the French even now might lack working leadership, were it not for fears that their country would go unrepresented at international conferences starting this week.

When Bidault at last managed to form a government, it was not because he offered anything unique in his program. His policy declaration differed little from that of Jules Moch, Socialist, and Rene Mayer, Radical, the two who earlier tried unsuccessfully to put together acceptable cabinets.

Bidault seems to have won approval from the French Chamber of Deputies because he juggled his cabinet possibilities more shrewdly. He wound up with a coalition group representing seven separate French parties. Included were both Moch and Mayer and two former premiers, Henri Queuille and Robert Schuman.

During the days without a leader, many French politicians and observers blamed the difficulty on the fact that France has not had a general election in some time. They argued that the chamber is out of touch with the people, that a new political alignment is needed to assure more stable government.

Others felt, however, that an election at this moment might give too much strength to the more extreme parties such as the Communists and Gen. Charles DeGaulle's rightist followers. France's best hope, it was said, lay in maintaining the present dominant power of the more moderate parties.

This view prevailed. It now appears unlikely there will be an election before 1951, the next date when one must be held in accordance with French law.

To the outsider watching France's troubles, the problem looks deeper than just the holding of an election on this or that date. It appears to stem from the nature of French political organization. Unlike the United States, Britain, Canada, Australia and other English-speaking nations, France has a great number of parties. Many are the merest splinters, offshoots from bigger groups. They represent all shades of opinion.

This setup gets away from the big complaint about America's major parties—that they are catch-alls which try to be all things to all men. But as they have worked out in French history, these numerous parties are seldom if ever strong enough to command control of the Chamber of Deputies.

As a result a government can be achieved only through a coalition of forces. Inevitably these coalitions are unstable; they fall apart easily. The recent Queuille cabinet, which lasted a year, was virtually a record. A few months is the normal life of a French government, and often the end comes in a matter of weeks.

This October crisis in French politics suggests that perhaps French politicians ought to re-examine this whole system. Parties giving expression to minute differences of opinion may be a luxury in which France can no longer safely indulge. The times would seem to call for larger, more stable combinations not likely to topple quickly.

Certainly France's democracy cannot endure many leaderless periods like the one that has just ended. Democracy must not be made a symbol of impotence.

Darlene Grady
Becomes Bride of William Harrell

Rev. James Grady was the officiating minister for the double ring wedding ceremony which united in marriage his niece, Miss Darlene Barbara Grady, and William B. Harrell. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Grady, rural route one, Jacksonville. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Harrell, Sr., 1008 Routt street.

The wedding took place Saturday, Oct. 29, at 8 p.m. in the Assembly of God church at Winchester. The traditional wedding marches were played by Mrs. John Steinhoff, who also served as accompanist for Miss Delores Modlin, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of white satin fashioned with fitted bodice, net yoke edged with a ruffle, and full skirt made of train. The lace bordered veil was floor length. She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid.

The bride's sister-in-law, Louise Tribble, served as matron of honor, wearing a pink satin gown. The bridesmaids, Marie Harrell, Gloria Harrell, Opal Modlin and Ethel Harrell, wore aqua, pale blue, pink and yellow gowns, respectively. Each of the attendants wore flowers in her hair and carried a colonial bouquet.

Gerald Tribble was best man. Other attendants for the bridegroom were Louis Miller, Elam Farmer, Harold Tribble and Harold Pence. Myra Grady, cousin of the bride, was the flower girl. James C. Grady, Jr., served as ring bearer.

A reception held in the Legion home following the ceremony was attended by more than 75 guests. A three-tiered wedding cake and other refreshments were served by Mrs. Rachel Snow and Mrs. John Enke, assisted by Miss Elsie Ballard.

The couple have returned from wedding trip and are residing at 3001 East Lafayette avenue.

BURGLARS, COWBOYS AND INDIANS

Washington.—(P)—A gang of boys entered a toy store at night through a trap door in the roof. They picked up some flashlights out of a showcase to light the way, helped themselves to wristwatches—and then found the bows and arrows.

Morning saw arrows stuck in the walls, a pillar, cardboard boxes, everywhere an arrow would stick. While some of the gang were playing Indian, others apparently were playing cowboy. There was plenty of shot from air rifles underfoot.

New Look Fading, Slim Silhouette Now Reappearing

The new look seems to be through and the slim silhouette appears to be on the way back, according to fall fashion trends noticed in the second annual fashion fair at New York.

Now more than ever women are trying frantically to take off the extra bulges.

In recent months many weight-reducing preparations have appeared on the market, some of them based on "the diet and vitamin plan," which means cut down on the intake of food and fortify with vitamins for hunger distress.

A survey among drug stores in Illinois shows that one preparation, Rennel, which is the outstanding seller in the reducing field, is not based on this vitamin plan.

Any Illinois druggist can supply you with 4 ounces of Rennel. Just add this to 12 ounces of canned grapefruit juice and take according to directions. No starvation diet.

The makers of Rennel guarantee to refund your money if the very first bottle does not show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves.

REV. CARL I. EMPSON

Rev. Empson is a native of New York state. He was educated at Wittenberg college and Hamma Divinity school, Springfield, Ohio. He has been a member of the Illinois Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America for more than 20 years and has served congregations in Wilmotte and Decatur prior to his pastorate at St. Louis.

Pastor and Mrs. Empson have three living children. A daughter, Mrs. V. E. Rahn, has taught Spanish at Valparaiso university, Valparaiso, Ind., for several years. Their two sons, David and Charles, are accompanying the family to Jacksonville.

The interest of Pastor Empson in home missions may be accounted for by the fact that the first seven years of his ministry was in home mission work. For the past several years he has been secretary of the home mission board of the Illinois Synod.

Faith Evangelical Lutheran church will celebrate its first annual anniversary on Nov. 28.

Rev. Wilbur M. Allen, who has been supply pastor for the congregation since organization of the church, will go to Virginia to organize Grace Lutheran church on Dec. 11.

CHARGES DESERTION

Desertion was charged by Shirley M. Decker in a divorce suit filed against Donald E. Decker, to whom she was married Sept. 3, 1947. The alleged desertion occurred four days after their marriage. The plaintiff is represented by Russell J. Alvarez, attorney.

Argue Motion to Drop Indictment In Wiley Death

A motion to quash the murder indictment of Theodore Draper, 24-year-old negro, of Springfield, on grounds that evidence was improperly presented to the grand jury, was taken before the Sangamon county Circuit Court Monday, and following arguments by Draper's lawyers and Nelson Howarth, assistant state's attorney, the case was taken under advisement until Wednesday by Circuit Judge DeWitt S. Crow.

Draper recently was indicted for the fatal stabbing of Leon Wiley, 27, also colored, of Jacksonville. Wiley was stabbed with a butcher knife at the Dudley hotel in Springfield on the night of Aug. 23.

Edmund Burke and Fred Stone, attorneys for Draper, contend that Howarth "unduly influenced" the grand jury by asking them if they wished to reconsider the Draper case after they had at first voted a no true bill. A second consideration of the case resulted in a true bill.

Howarth argued that it is the duty of the state's attorney office to seek indictments against all alleged criminals, and that he was thus justified in asking that the grand jury reconsider the case. The assistant state's attorney argued that he did not unduly influence the grand jury because he asked them if they wished to reconsider the case, and did not in any manner order them to do so.

The defendant's counsel made an oral motion to continue Draper's trial, which is scheduled for Monday. Judge Crow said he would pass on the motion at the time of his decision Wednesday.

NEEDY TRANSIENTS WILL BE HELPED; NO NEED TO BEG

Due to a number of reports that have been coming into the Salvation Army Headquarters in recent weeks, Major Henri Servais is asking the public not to give cash to any transient who may be begging or soliciting.

One transient, after being searched was found to have more than $18 in his pockets which he admitted receiving by panhandling.

The number of transients going through Jacksonville, the Major stated, is increasing with each passing day. If the people of the city will refer them to the Army Officer they will be given food and shelter and each transient will be interviewed, Major Servais stated.

To each one who voted for me in yesterday's election I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation. The success of my campaign was due to the effort of all those who worked in behalf of my election.

Attends Reunion Of 309th Field Artillerymen

Frank A. Robinson, veterans' service officer for Morgan and Scott counties, has returned from Rochester, N.Y., where last Saturday he attended a reunion of the 309th Field Artillery which served in the First World War.

He was accompanied on the trip by John Conlee of Springfield, Benjamin Osborne and Guy Kessler, both of Virden, who are veterans of the same regiment.

Three hundred former members of the 309th attended the 15th annual reunion at the Dowd Memorial Home in Rochester, a Legion home erected for the most part by funds donated by the parents of a soldier who lost his life in battle.

Illinois Valley Grid Competitors Wind Up '49 Card This Week

Football Claims 15 Lives So Far In 1949 Season

Los Angeles, Nov. 8.—(P)—Football has claimed 15 lives thus far in the 1949 season, six of them in unsupervised sandlot games.
Dr. Floyd Eastwood, a professor at the Los Angeles State College and chairman of the injury and fatality committee of the American football coaches association, gave the figures in his annual midseason report today.

The fatalities include one college player, five in high school, three in professional and semi-professional ranks and six in sandlot plays.
For the same period last year, sandlot deaths totaled three, high schools seven, three in pro or semi-pro and none in college ranks.

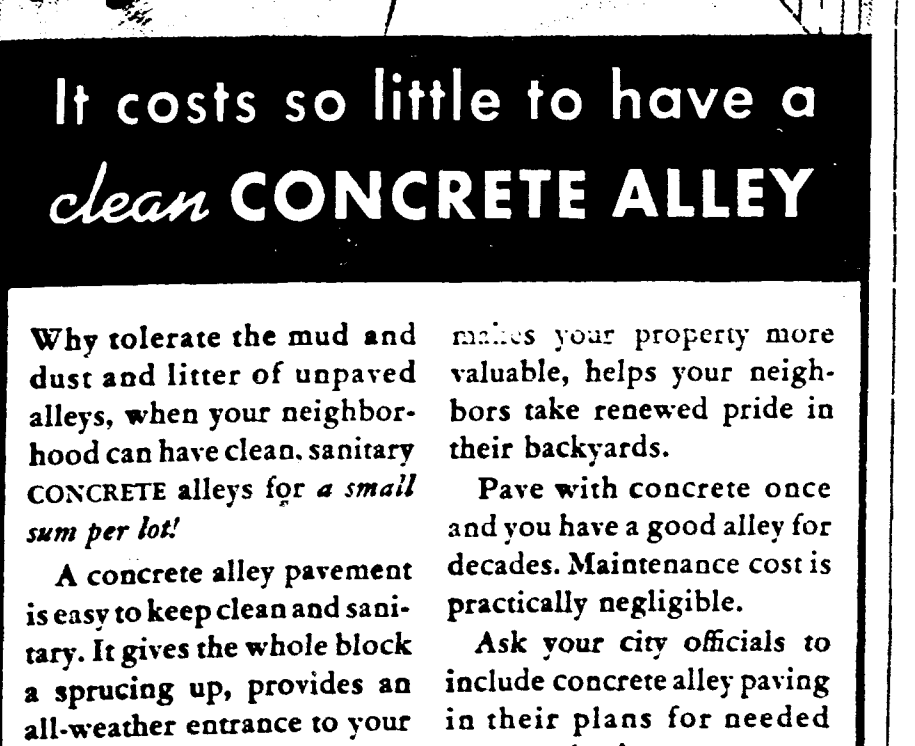

Three of this season's deaths were indirectly caused by football while 12 were direct results of football injuries.
Seven of the 15 deaths were attributed to head injuries. Dr. Eastwood said these could have been prevented had the athletes been equipped "with adequate headgears."

Ohio State Ace Tailback Injured In Practice Tues.

Columbus, O., Nov. 8.—(P)—Ohio State's ace tailback, Jerry Krall, was carried off the practice field today on a stretcher with an ankle injury.
The veteran left halfback, a senior, was taken to the training room. The extent of his injury and whether he would be available for Saturday's all-important clash with Illinois were not determined immediately.

It costs so little to have a clean CONCRETE ALLEY

Why tolerate the mud and dust and litter of unpaved alleys, when your neighborhood can have clean, sanitary concrete alleys for a small sum per lot!

A concrete alley pavement is easy to keep clean and sanitary. It gives the whole block a sprucing up, provides an all-weather entrance to your garage or place of business, makes your property more valuable, helps your neighbors take renewed pride in their backyards.

Pave with concrete once and you have a good alley for decades. Maintenance cost is practically negligible.

Ask your city officials to include concrete alley paving in their plans for needed community improvements.

White Hall Cage Prospects Bright, Open Card Nov. 22

White Hall—Though he lost seven lettermen off last year's "pretty good" White Hall basketball team, Coach Howard Berline is voicing no complaints. The popular Maroon mentor greeted five returning lettermen the first day of cage practice this fall plus a host of promising youngsters.

A graduate of Illinois College in Jacksonville, Berline is in his second year of coaching at White Hall. He coached previously at Hillview, Ill. A member of the Illinois Valley conference, White Hall wound up the season with an 11-12 record last year. The Maroons finished second in the Greene county tournament.

Returning lettermen include seniors James Campbell, Richard Washburn and Philip Strang and sophomores David Ridings and Teddy Prihly.

Four seniors, who Berline coached at Hillview, have transferred to White Hall and will once again play ball for their old tutor. These four are main reasons why Berline is looking up this year—Albert Dawdy, Lyndell McCaherty, Gilbert Ford and Donald Powell.

The Maroons open against Hardin at White Hall on Nov. 22.

Wisconsin Seeks Fifth Big Ten Distance Title

Chicago, Nov. 8.—(P)—Wisconsin, paced by stellar Don Gehrmann, will seek its fifth Big Ten cross-country championship in six years in the annual conference meet at Washington Park here Friday afternoon.
Gehrmann will be trying for a third straight individual title, a feat not accomplished since Minnesota's P. O. Watson won in 1913-14-15.

The spindly-legged Badger star holds the Washington four-mile course record of 20 minutes, 26.4 seconds which he set in 1947.
With exception of the 1947 meet won by Illinois, the Badgers have taken the team crown since 1944 although they shared it with Indiana in 1946.

Bucs Buy Second Baseman Schenz From Brooklyn

Pittsburgh, Nov. 8.—(P)—The Pittsburgh Pirates bought "infield insurance" today in the person of Hank Schenz. The former St. Paul second baseman was purchased from the Brooklyn Dodgers for a "nominal cash sum."

The 28-year-old Aurora, Ind., resident batted .345 this year for the American association pennant winners. He spent one previous season in the National league—with the Chicago Cubs in 1948.

Pirates General Manager Roy Hamey said the Bucs have dropped outfielder John Fiscallini from their roster to make room for Schenz. Fiscallini will go to a Pittsburgh farm club.

Seventy At Meeting Of Athletic Boosters

Elmer Lukeman, who served as temporary chairman until the election can be effected, presided during the two-hour meeting.
Coaches from four Jacksonville schools—Routt, Jacksonville high, I.S.D. and Illinois College—attended the inaugural meeting. John Chapin, new basketball coach at JHS, spoke at length on his methods and what he expected in the way of a basketball team at the local school this year.

Two Teams Dominate All-Star Grid Poll

Meredosia and Routt athletes split the positions evenly as the Journal-Courier All-Star football poll passed the halfway mark yesterday. Each school placed three gridgers high in the voting.

Franklin athletes made their first appearance on yesterday's ballots and a rather belated one it was since all voting will cease at midnight Thursday (Nov. 10). Bob Hocking at end and Bill Rawlings, giant halfback, made their bid for Franklin, but they were outstripped by Routt and Meredosia players as the votes poured in.

Jack Marcy, Chanderville's main forte, slipped behind Routt's A. J. Spreen in a tight race for the number one quarterback job. Darryle Notrup holds a two-vote edge over Dick Casler at one end while Darryle Tegeder made it all Meredosia over Routt at the other flank, slipping ahead of Bill Kaufmann.

Jim Flynn, Routt center, grabbed a three-vote advantage over Meredosia's Stanley Walker while Sonny Lonergan of Routt and Joe Newman, Meredosia, continue to lead halfback contenders.

Clarks Dominate Pigeon Shoot
Reno, Nov. 8.—(P)—G. H. Clark, Chicago, and Homer Clark, Alton, Ill., held a slight lead today in the Flyer (live pigeon) division of the three way national open shotgun meet.
Each of the Clarks scored 39x40, with the final 10 shots to be fired tomorrow.

Robert Allen, Des Moines, killed 38, and Joe Hiestand, Hillsboro, O., Phil Miller, Kansas City, and M. W. Ray, John Day, Ore., 37 each.

After tomorrow's Flyer windup, three days of trapshooting are scheduled. The meet, at the Reno trap and skeet club, opened with Skeet.

NO. 7—THE RELEASE
In releasing the ball in the delivery, your thumb, which has been leading the swing, slips out of the ball first (1). Then the ball simply rolls off your fingertips as your hand and arm swing on through the upward arc. The ball leaves your hand just ahead of your left foot (2), which is at the foul line. Deliver the arm too high on the upward arc. Practice this swing delivery until the ball seems to leave your hand naturally and your hand swing on a free follow through swing delivery. Don't try to force the ball—don't push it or throw it. Just let it swing forward like a pendulum and let go (3). If you release it after your No. (5) shows the arc of the swing so that it rolls away smoothly. (of this newspaper).

Redskins, Eagles Top NFL Offense In Air And Ground

Philadelphia, Nov. 8.—(P)—In the National Football league, it's Washington in the air and Philadelphia on the ground.
League statistics released today show the Redskins of Washington, led by 13-year veteran Sammy Baugh, holds a one-yard edge over the Chicago Bears and Johnny Lujack in passing gains. The 'Skins have amassed 1,654 yards to 1,653 for the Bears.

The defending champion Philadelphia Eagles have piled up 1,549 yards on the ground to lead the second place Green Bay Packers by nearly 200 yards.

The Eagles' offense is spearheaded by Steve Van Buren, the league's second best ground gainer, and Bosh Pritchard, number three runner. The Packers, who have compiled 1,367 yards running are led by Tony Canadeo, ground gaining leader.

In total offense, the 'Skins are tops with 2,670. The Bears are second with 2,674 and the Eagles third with 2,576.

AL Announces 1950 Reserve List Of 298 Players

Chicago, Nov. 8.—(P)—The American league today announced a reserve list of 298 players for the 1950 season without a single club having the full limit of 40 hopefuls.

With most teams having two or more berths still open, a brisk hunt for fresh talent by the junior circuit is expected this winter. A lot of shopping will begin as early as next month at the minor and major league meetings.

Of the 298 players earmarked for service next season, 121 are pitchers. New York's world champion Yankees and the Cleveland Indians have the biggest reserve lists with 39 players each. The Boston Red Sox and Philadelphia Athletics are one behind with 38 apiece.

Three clubs, the Chicago White Sox, Detroit Tigers and St. Louis Browns, are three players under the limit with 37, while the Washington Senators have only 33.

NBA To Tighten Pro Boxing Rules To Stop Deaths

Miami Beach, Fla., Nov. 8.—(P)—Tightening professional boxing regulations to prevent future ring fatalities will hold the spotlight when the National Boxing association opens its annual convention here Sunday.

Joseph Triner, former NBA president and now Illinois Boxing commission chairman, declared increased preventive supervision of professional fighters is the key to avoiding future ring tragedies.

Triner, who arrived early for the convention, outlined a system requiring all professional fighters to carry information cards listing their records as an aid to forestalling overmatching.

He also advocated a weekly bulletin of results on all bouts throughout the country to keep boxing officials up to date on fighters ring activities. This would give officials a complete, up to date history of all performers, Triner said.

MUSIAL IS FATHER 3rd TIME; IT'S A GIRL

St. Louis, Nov. 2.—(P)—Stan Musial, the St. Louis Cardinals' star outfielder, is a father for the third time. A six pound nine ounce girl was born to Mrs. Musial at 4 p.m. yesterday in St. Louis Maternity hospital. The Musials' other children are Dickie, 9, and Gerald, 4.

New Coach Welcomes Huge Crop Of Cagers: Makes No Predictions

New Jacksonville high school basketball coach John Chapman started early this week to weed out a huge crop of Crimson cage hopefuls in an attempt to arrive at what will be his starting quintet when the Jacks open the season at Virginia Nov. 29.

Chapman has been working with his non-footballers for the past week. About 70 of those boys were way ahead of the Crimson gridgers who reported Monday evening and swelled the cage roster to approximately 90 athletes.

Chapman who comes to Jacksonville from Columbia City, Ind., learned his basketball at Purdue University where he played on the Boilermaker varsity with four Illinois boys.

When quizzed concerning his prospects, Chapman was silent. "My first five is wide open to the best players," the dark-haired grizzled mentor pointed out. "The boys that work into my system the best will play ball, whether he was a star or a dud last season," he continued.

Making No Predictions
"I am making absolutely no predictions, except to say that we are going to have a scrappy outfit. We're going to work especially on defense this week," said Chapman.

Three lettermen were lost from last year's fair Crimson quintet. Gerald Bussey, Gene Todd and Rollin Trotter, who is now enrolled at Western Teachers College, were the graduates. All three boys played first team ball.

When listing the returning lettermen, Chapman remarked, "It looks as if some of these boys may not make it. If we have to start from the ground, it's going to be with freshmen and sophomores." Harvey Myers, Dick Gotchall, Jack Chapman, Bill Williams—a freshman each last year—John Rhodes and Maylon Baldwin, are included in the returnees.

Freshmen Look Good
"Freshmen Jim Berk, Dick Beasley and Ike Wright are looking especially good," commented the Crimson tutor.

At present the Jacksonville schedule lists 19 games and two tournaments, besides the regional. The Jacks are entered in the local Holiday tourney and the Winchester meet this season. The chart lists 16 home games and 9 away.

Johnny Karras Needs Only 46 Yards To Top Big Ten Gaining Mark

Chicago, Nov. 8.—(P)—Johnny Karras, perhaps Illinois' most sensational halfback since Red Grange, can set a new Big Ten individual ground-gaining record by smashing 46 yards against Ohio State Saturday.

The slashing, power-running sophomore, has averaged almost 125 yards rushing in five league games. So his chances of cracking the 1944 record of 669 yards by Ohio State's Les Horvath seem sure-fire.

Per Carry Average Tops
Not only has Karras with his 624 yard aggregate become the fifth back in modern conference history to gain over 600 yards in a single league season, but his per carry average of 7.6 yards in 82 attempts, tops that of any recent ball-toting star.

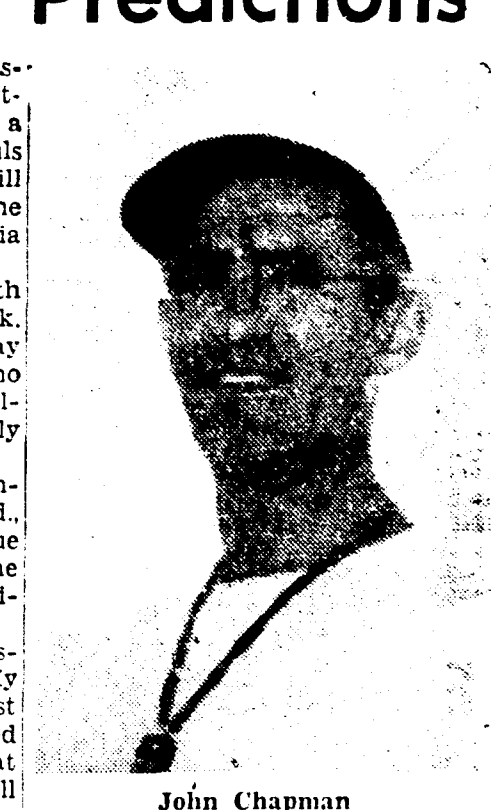

Here's the run-down of the previous "600" gallopers:
Gms. Tries Yds Av.
1942—Tony Butkovich, fb Purdue, 4 95 625 6.6
1944—Horvath, fb, Ohio State, 6 126 669 5.3
1945—Ollie Cline, fb, Ohio State, 7 126 606 4.7
1948—Harry Szulborski, fb, Purdue, 6 125 631 5.0

The 186-pound Karras developed as few sophomores do. Although he was a standout in the Illinois spring practice final game, Karras was regarded in the team's 1949 outlook as a partial answer to the replacement question left by the graduation of (CST) yesterday in St. Louis Maternity hospital. The Musials' other children are Dickie, 9, and Gerald, 4.

Chick Maggiori, Detroit Lions' halfback, won football letters at Indiana. Notre Dame and Illinois during war training with the Marines.

Michigan, a bristling defensive team, stopped Karras cold on his first eight tries, but despite a 13-0 Illinois blanking Johnny wound up with 122 yards in 23 attempts against the Wolverines.
Last Saturday, against Indiana, Karras rambled 155 yards in only 12 tries for almost a 13-yard average. Even if the Buckeyes shackle Karras Saturday in a key game in the race for the Big Ten championship and a Rose Bowl bid, the Illinois star still has a seventh game, against Northwestern, to surpass Horvath's record.
Official league statistics released today listed Northwestern's Don Burson as the No. 1 passer in the conference. In six league games, Burson has connected on 38 of 77 passes for 575 yards, four touchdowns and a 494 average.
Karras, who has completed one pass in four tries for 14 yards, also leads in total offense with 638 yards. The top scorer is Iowa's Bill Reichardt with 27 points on two touchdowns and 15 conversions in as many tries.
Halfback Bob Robertson of Indiana moved into the punting leadership with a 42.2 average on 19 of the 186-pound Karras developed as few sophomores do. Although he was a standout in the Illinois spring practice final game, Karras was regarded in the team's 1949 outlook as a partial answer to the replacement question left by the graduation of (CST) yesterday in St. Louis Maternity hospital. The Musials' other children are Dickie, 9, and Gerald, 4.

In his first conference game, Karras carried the ball only eight times, but slashed through Wisconsin for 62 yards. Against Iowa, Karras hauled 20 times for 174 yards. He picked up 111 yards in 19 tries against Purdue.

THE STORY: Three people were and two people claim to own a valuable cameo which was turned up in a California art colony. Both Neil O'Neill and Hagar Hagar claim ownership. Andrey Yakov, a Russian artist, Hagar Hagar, a gift shop proprietor, and her assistant, Stephanie Smith, want it. The cameo is in the possession of Arnold Pfeffer, a weaver, who says Martin commissioned him to sell it in San Francisco. Stephanie has just told Hagar that the cameo is more precious to her than anything in the world.

VIII

STEPHANIE twisted her slender fingers in and out, making a little basket of her hands. "Oh, Hagar, I'll tell you about it, but not right now. But I will, believe me. I will. Only, please, let's get it before someone else carries it away."

Hagar couldn't resist the urge to pry a bit more. "You realize, don't you, my girl, that you're trying to talk me into spending my old-age security money on this thing and then wait around for you to pay me back at about $5 per week? And for why?"

Stephanie pressed her hands to her face and began to sob. Hagar placed an awkward hand on Stephanie's shoulder.

"Now, now," she said gruffly. "Let's not drown ourselves. If it means that much to you, we can probably figure out something. First things first, though. You go get a handkerchief and mop up."

As Stephanie stumbled toward the rear of the shop, Hagar started the closing up chores.

"I'd be a perdition liar if I didn't admit I'm enjoying the whole thing. Stolen jewels, a chase, everything but a murder. Well, if we can get away with it, I think I have a plan that will out-fox everybody and put that Giovanni delle Corniole cameo right smack in the middle of my collection. Until you can buy it, of course. Are you through mopping up?"

Hagar went to the back room.

In the small, makeshift sitting room behind the stock shelves, she found Stephanie curled up in one of the battered old armchairs, smoking a cigaret and looking surprisingly calm and poised once again. Hagar flopped into a chair opposite her.

"Well," she began, "the thing to do first is get hold of Falter. I've an idea that Neil O'Neill can't prove her ownership of the cameo, nor can he. I definitely smell a large mouse. But if Yakov's going to take a chance on buying it, I can at least make a couple of passes in that direction myself and see what happens."

"One thing I do know," she went on, "the cameo has not been reported missing or stolen by anyone. I'd be bound to hear about anything like that. So, we'll have to assume that either Neil or Falter are the legal owners. Another thing, I'm convinced now that Falter didn't steal the thing from Neil—she'd have accused him. I think she gave it to him for reasons of her own. And I think she's probably planning to get around him some way to get it back. But if I know that old deadbeat, Falter, she's got a job cut out for her."

HAGAR grinned at Stephanie. "Here's another angle: If Neil did give the cameo to Falter, how's she going to explain it to Tom, her husband, if Falter should start to stir up a stink?"

Stephanie looked dazed. "I can't quite understand what you're planning, Hagar. All I can think of is, what will happen if Yakov gets the cameo before we do?"

Hagar mashed out her cigaret and stood up. "I'll tell you what I'm going to do right now: I'm going to put on my coat, hop in my car and hunt up Falter. He offered me the cameo for $12,000, and I'm going to see what will happen if I tell him 'yes' on the deal. Maybe I'm a senile old turkey to think of spending that much cash, but you can't take it with you, as the man said."

Hagar shrugged into an enormous topcoat and belted it snugly. "Do you want to come along, Stephanie?"

Stephanie looked up at last. "No, Hagar," she was saying. "I'll stay here and hope."

"Well, I must say you don't look very hopeful right now—"

"It's probably too late."

Hagar stared, then, with impatient gestures, she began to pull on a pair of shabby pigskin gloves. "That's neurotic," she told Stephanie. "If you lie around moaning about somebody else getting hold of your cameo, they probably will."

All at once Stephanie's eye began to blaze again with the blue fire. She sprang out of her chair and stood before Hagar with her fists clenched.

HAGAR watched the girl's face admiringly. The tight, beautiful muscles of her arched neck, the raised bosom, the straight-as-a-die shoulders.

"Now, now," Hagar soothed absently. "I'll go hunt out Falter and see what's up. Who knows, maybe by this time tomorrow we'll have our little cameo. Meanwhile, let's be practical. While I'm gone, why don't you run up to the house and put that pot of stew on the stove? We've got to keep up our strength if we're going to be pushing and hauling with Neil O'Neill and Falter, to say nothing about that Russian heavy."

She waved her car key and moved toward the door. "I may be late getting back, depends on whether Falter's at home or abroad. If I'm not there in a couple of hours, you go ahead and eat. Adios!"

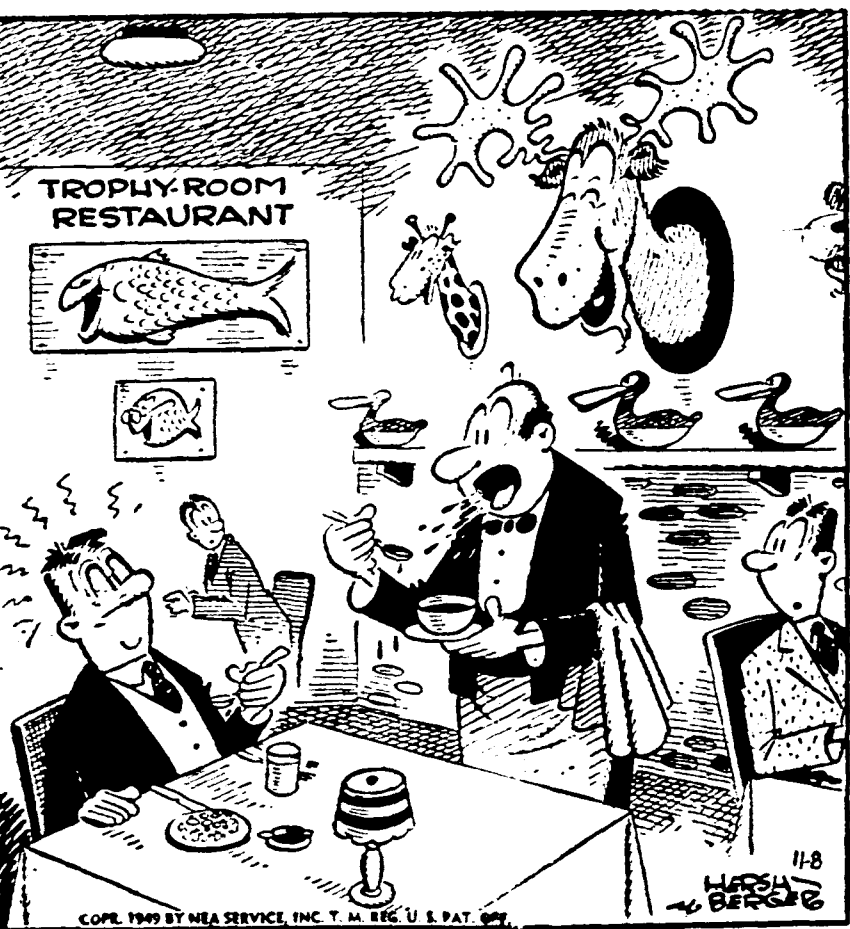

Hagar felt in excellent fettle as she slipped through the shop's front door, walked down the street and got in her toy-sized red car.

There, right where she might have sat up at it, was the silver box, the box belonging to the carnelian cameo. It was open. And empty.

Virgil Wegeholt Wins County Commissioner Race By 326 Votes

Virgil Wegeholt, well known farmer of the Concord community, was elected to the Morgan county board of commissioners Tuesday in balloting which slightly exceeded pre-election estimates. He defeated Republican Walter Fearnough, a resident of the Lynnville area, who is the present board chairman and was a candidate for his fourth term.

Wegeholt's majority, on the basis of complete unofficial returns, was 326 votes.

Virgil Wegeholt

Wegeholt will take office on the first Monday in December. Long a civic leader in his area, yesterday's race marked the first time he had sought a county office. After he takes the oath of office the political county board will be controlled by Democrats for the first time in eight years. Holdover members are Clark A. Stevenson of Jacksonville, Republican, and Carlos E. McDaniel of Chapin, Democrat, who was elected last year.

Both candidates rolled up impressive majorities in their home communities. Concord residents gave the winner a 140 vote edge; Fearnough was the favorite in Lynnville by a 115-39 count.

To win the race Wegeholt carried 21 precincts and tied in two. Franklin, No. 1, gave the two men the same number of votes, 55, and Jacksonville No. 5 voters divided at 74 each. Wegeholt was the leader in the county, winning 14 precincts to Fearnough's 8, but the latter carried Jacksonville by a 12-8 count. His majorities in Jacksonville, however, were too small to overcome the advantage Wegeholt built up in the surrounding area.

The newly-elected commissioner is a farmer, a director of consolidated school unit No. 27, which comprises Concord, Chapin, Arenzville and Meredosia, a Farm Bureau township chairman, and township chairman of the county A.A.A. committee. He will relinquish the latter post, however, in accordance with the regulations governing A.A.A. committees.

Republicans Paul F. Hapke and Patrick H. Lonerger were elected justices of the peace of Jacksonville by the Democratic party; Justice C. S. Smith and George Creighton, who won the write-in vote for the fifth place will not be determined until the official canvass of the total vote is completed. On the basis of the few precincts reporting Justice Otto H. Niemann and Alfred E. Britt were the leading contenders for the fifth spot.

Elected constables were Republicans Edward Goodey, J. W. Hankins, Harold R. Wilson, and Democrats Frank Ham and Richard Vasey.

Methodists Plan Evangelism Meet In Cass Thursday

Rev. Victor H. Roberts, superintendent of the Jacksonville district of the Methodist church, announced Tuesday the conference on Evangelism to be held at the Beards-town First Methodist church Thursday from 10 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.

Dr. Harry Denman, executive secretary of the Board of Evangelism of the Methodist church with headquarters in Nashville, Tenn., will be the guest speaker and leader at both the morning and afternoon sessions. He is widely known for his leadership in the field of evangelism. Both laymen and ministers are most cordially invited to attend.

In addition to Dr. Denman, a number of the ministers of the Jacksonville district will participate in the day's program. Dr. Frank Marston, pastor of Grace Methodist church of this city, will be in charge of the afternoon devotional period. Rev. E. B. Morton, pastor of the Beards-town Methodist church and district director of Evangelism, will serve as chairman at both sessions of the conference.

His majorities in Jacksonville, however, were too small to overcome the advantage Wegehoff built up in the surrounding area.

The newly-elected commissioner is a farmer, a director of consolidated school unit No. 27, which comprises Concord, Chapin, Arenzville and Meredosia, a Farm Bureau township chairman, and township chairman of the county A.A.A. committee. He will relinquish the latter post, however, in accordance with the regulations governing A.A.A. committees.

Republicans Paul F. Hapke and Patrick H. Lonerger were elected justices of the peace of Jacksonville, as were the two candidates endorsed by the Democratic party: Justice C. S. Smith and George Creighton. Who won the write-in vote for the fifth place will not be determined until the official canvass. On the basis of the few precincts reporting Justice Otto H. Niemann and Alfred E. Britt were the leading contenders for the fifth spot.

Freedoms May Be Lost, Asserts Welfare Chief

"Oppressed men can never be free," declared Fred K. Hoehler, director of the Illinois Department of Public Welfare, at the MacMurray college chapel service held Tuesday morning.

Speaking upon the importance of Armistice Day Mr. Hoehler discussed the great advantage of retaining freedom in a country like the United States. It was pointed out that we now have a great amount of freedom which could easily be destroyed through excessive practice of smugness, snobbery and selfishness upon the part of Americans.

Mr. Hoehler pointed out that today the State of Illinois is spending practically one third of its entire budget through the welfare department. The department, now operates 27 welfare institutions, not the least of which is the development of well-trained personnel to care for the handicapped.

After the service Mr. Hoehler was a guest at a luncheon given by President and Mrs. C. P. McClelland in the small dining room of McClelland Hall.
